

Brainstorming: your border crossings

- You all have experienced moments in which you cross borders. These moments may alter, redirect, reinforce, or otherwise affect the course of your life.
- Think of FOUR such border crossings in your life. These should be major events that have a large impact on who you are.
- For each of the FOUR defining moments, complete the following:
 - Write a brief description of the moment.
 - What borders did you cross and how?
 - Why was the experience memorable?
 - What did you learn from it, or how did it affect you?
