

Imitation of Cisneros's "My Name"

Imitating Sandra Cisneros's personal essay, write a composition about your name and its personal meaning, focusing on what it says about who you are and what's important to you. Consider these questions as you prepare your draft:

- What does your name reveal about your identity?
- What is your attitude toward your name?
- For whom are you named? How are you similar to or different from this person?
- What name would you choose for yourself if you had the opportunity, and what does this new name suggest about who you are?
